Coach Dillon

Best of luck to a red headed freckled faced teacher. Even though we had a few teachers that were giving themes you had to be the one to give them all. I have really enjoyed having you as a study hall even though I did have to write 'many, many' themes. Hope I have you for a teacher next year.

Mike Pagano

Coach Dillon

You have been a nice teacher this year

Ronald L. Bowman

Mr. Dillon
Best of luck to a real nice kid.

Love always

David Moore

Coach Dillon
I wish the best of luck in world this year.

Danny

Coach,

you have been one of the best study hall teachers we have ever had (half of the time) Best Wishes to you and your wife. Hope to see you next year but not for a teacher

Teresa Smithers

Coach Dillon,

I have really enjoyed being in your Study Hall. No, I'm not kidding, I really mean it.

I'll always remember your famous words - "Let's get quiet"
"100 word theme." I guess ~~that~~ ^{those} wasps!
was the good old days. Well,
hope to see you around.

Sandra

Coach Dillon,
I have enjoyed
being in your Study Hall this year. Keep
go. High running next year because I'm not going to be here to help hold it up. I'll try to see you next year. Best of luck to you and Betty. Ho!

Coach Dillion
I have enjoyed you teaching me P.E. this year, and most of all I have learned a lot
too. Kenneth.

Coach,

I really enjoyed P.E. this year.
Hope I see you next year. Good luck in the future.

Coach,

I have enjoyed having you as a teacher and a former basketball coach and I wish to you the best of luck in the year to come.

It's have been fun play basketball there two years. I have enjoyed knowing and having you as my coach and teacher.
I wish you the best of luck in the

Coach

It's really been great having you as a teacher and a coach this. I hope you have some more students
like me next year.
Ha Ha. I've really enjoyed your class.

Coach D.

It's been fun
being in your room.
But I doubt if you enjoyed it much.
I thought we had a great basketball season.
Best wishes,

Coach,

It's been great having you for my P.E. teacher this year.
Just be careful and don't make anybody do very many exercises next year. If you don't watch you might build up some muscles on somebody.

I sure enjoyed being coached by you this year in basketball.
Don't work too hard
this summer.

The LINKS That Bind

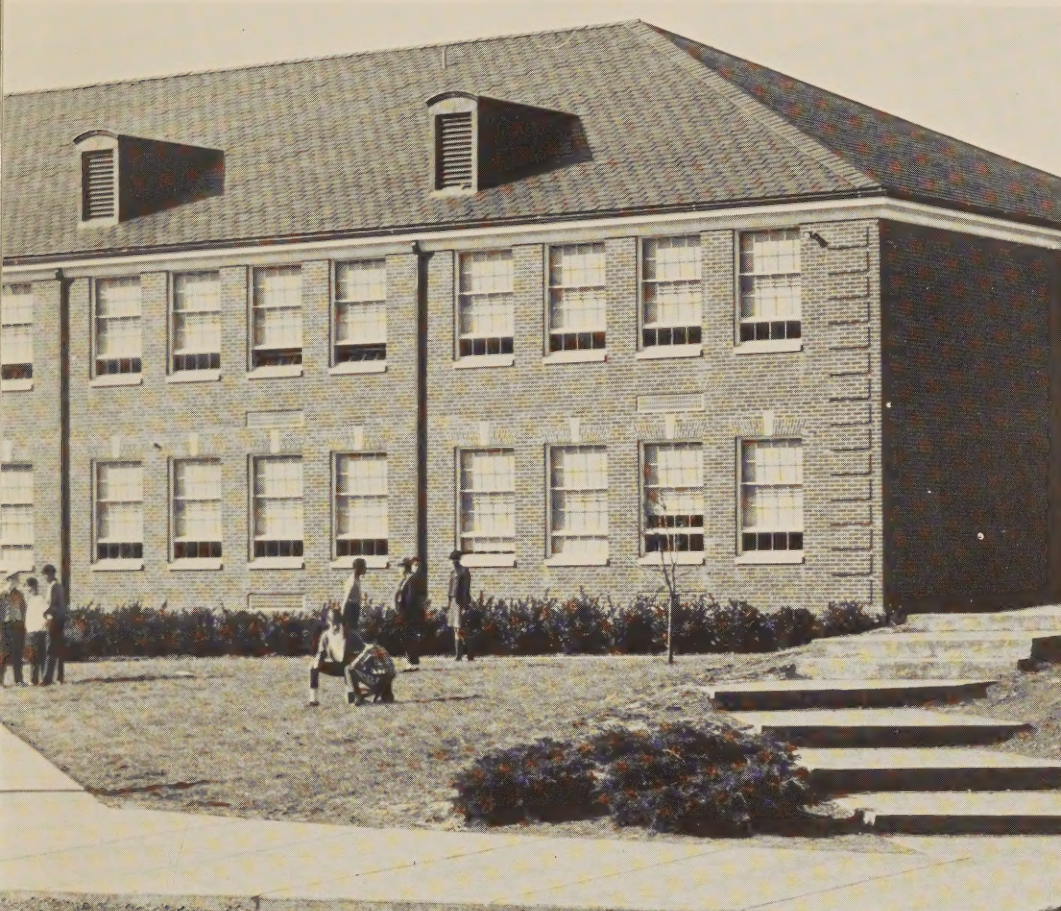

All of the activities at FCJHS are linked together to develop our students for all phases of life. We accomplish this by working together, by playing together, by sharing ideas together, and by worshipping together. We also share our laughter and our tears, our joys and our sorrows, our successes and our failures, all the while binding us closer together as friends and as a school.

In this book we have tried to portray in words and pictures the opportunities and the experiences that have been provided for you while at Franklin County Junior High School.

Each of you has now become a definite link of this school and will carry its spirit and tradition with you wherever you go. In return, you will leave a little bit of yourself here continuing to create FCJHS.

Franklin County Junior High School

*Coch Dillon,
it has been great having you as a P.E. teacher this year. I hope you have your own teacher in some classes in the future. See you at the ball game this summer. Good luck! It's a real fine job of coach like me.*

*Coch Dillon,
Best of luck to a real neat guy and a great coach. Have fun!
This summer and
don't work too hard.
See you playing ball
and don't win a lot of the games.*

Leary-Fatchett

Yours, Albin Wright

Supporting Patrons . . .78

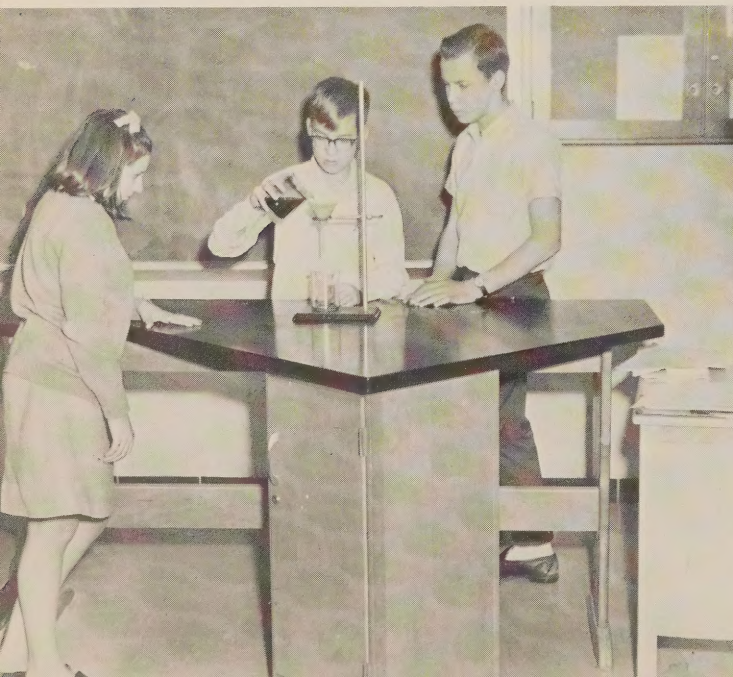

These students are learning how to operate a drill press in order to bore the proper size holes for threading purposes to insert various size bolts.

We form these links

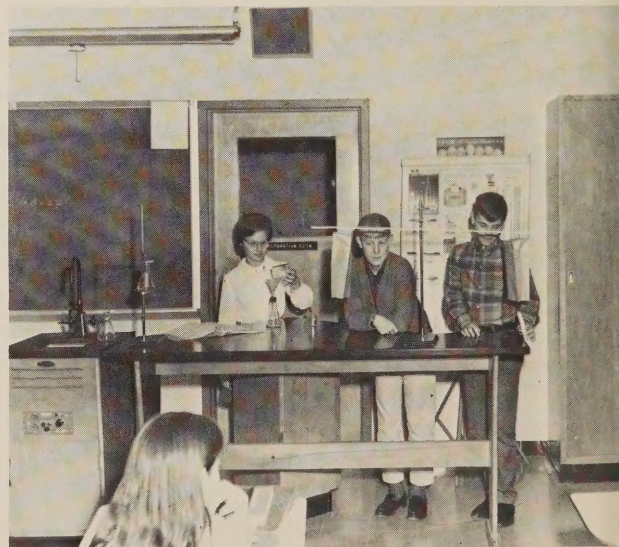

Bays Wolfe, Don Angle, Colby Brown and Dempsey Yount practice together each during band class to improve the quality of their tones and to blend their sounds.

Colby Brown shows Lynnette Sink and James Smith how to remove the impurities from dark brown sugar to get white sugar.

Linda Brooks, Wayne Angle and Dennis Flora demonstrate some properties of air during an earth science lab period.

... by working together

Sue Cook, Sheryl Brubaker, Nancy Smith, Sue Sumpter, Sandra Lynch and Bonnie Pagans spent several hours in making the decorations needed for the Christmas Tea which they gave for the faculty.

Only hours of singing together will produce the results these girls are striving for. When you hear them, you know they have succeeded.

Phyllis Hall, Debbie Payne, Syrena Whitlow, Joann Perdue and Debbie Dillon check on each other to make sure the double-fudge candy turns out just as they want it to, good to eat!

These boys think that the best way to get the day going is to have a fast and exciting game of volleyball.

Quarterback Richard Jarrett throws a quick pass to end Creed Guiliams as the eighth grade team plays together attempting to rack up a victory.

One of the highlights of the year at FCJHS is the big annual sock-hop which is held each spring. The Rebels furnished the music for this gay frolic and it would be hard to decide which the crowd enjoyed most, the music of this band or the dancing.

... by playing together

Work becomes play for Larry Harlow, Jerry Meador, Carroll Morris and Watson Smith as they show the class their completed project on mountain formations.

Harry Smith goes up against a visiting player and sinks a basket for another two points for our ninth grade team.

These girls find that folk dancing is one of the favorite phases of the physical education program offered to the eighth graders as they go through the steps of the Sicilian Circle Mixer.

Jonathan Winston, Don Groves, George Griffith and Roger Metz enrolled in FCJHS just in time for the Christmas holidays. Gathered around the tree, they are anxious to see if Santa has followed them to Virginia. These boys brought new ideas and enthusiasm into our school and the classes they attended.

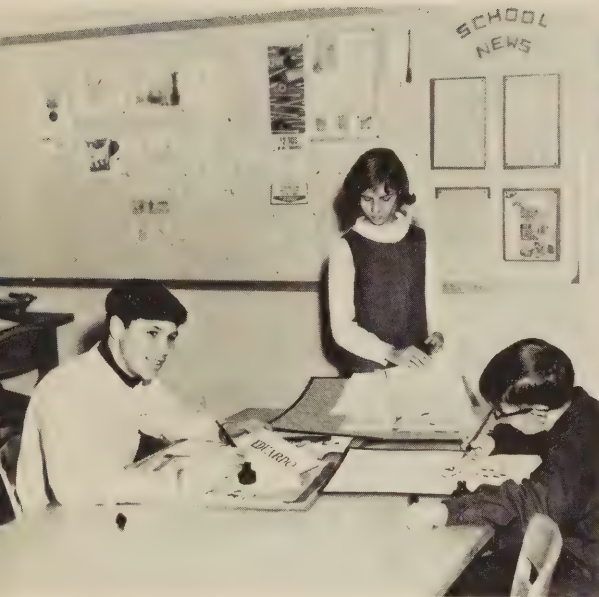

Illustrating an algebra problem for their classmates, Patsy Matherly, Donna Wray and Colby Brown compile their knowledge and then establish a picture of an equation.

Randolph Perdue, Sue Hammock, Martha Sue Wolfe, Jane English, Mark Cranford, Daphne Brown, Patsy Matherly, Joyce Ramsey, Dottie Gail Barbour, Patsy Hodges and Don Angle were selected from the Student Council to study the present constitution and make recommendations to the SCA for any changes which they felt were needed at the present time.

... by sharing ideas together

Reyburn Martin, Sharon Byrd and Edward Marban take time out in art class to bring their portfolios up to date and to compare their drawings.

Deanna Abshire, Patsy Matthews and Sam Goodpasture work together on a display of student made posters of the novel David Copperfield. Bringing these characters to life is an enjoyable part of their literature class.

Sue Whitt, Leon Rigney, Bobby Walters and Charles Johnson share their ideas as they work on their World Geography projects during Miss Turner's fourth period class.

Betty English, president of the Tri-Hi-Y, presented devotionals to the student body on the first day of National Hi-Y Week. These talks, given by a different girl each day, were practical and very helpful for a teen-ager.

The Reverend Alton McDaniels was the guest speaker for the annual Easter assembly which is sponsored by all of the Tri-Hi-Y clubs. The band and choir always delight the students with their part of the program.

Faye Angle briefs the Reverend Joe Lindsoe, guest speaker at the Tri-Hi-Y Induction Service, on the order of the program which was held at the Rocky Mount Christian Church, Rocky Mount, Virginia, January 28, 1968.

... by worshipping together

Getting every day off to a good start, Miss Well's homeroom students has a brief devotional and pledge allegiance to the flag. These students will certainly become our better citizens because of the interest they have taken in this worship period.

These young people pause a moment during their lunch period for a blessing which is offered each day by a different student of FCJHS.

Mrs. Lois English, advisor of the Tri-Hi-Y, lights her candle to bring to a close the impressive candle lighting ceremony.

FACULTY

This year twelve new teachers joined the faculty at FCJHS. The year was one of orientation for them; however, the new faces quickly blended with the familiar ones and no confusion disrupted the efficiency of the teaching staff.

While emphasizing important ideas and bringing about understanding, the faculty also had time to answer questions of curious students and to share an occasional laugh with their classes. Their role did not stop after a day of classroom teaching or a night of grading papers and making plans for tomorrow. Their work encompassed other tasks such as club sponsor and chaperones at school functions.

Although the faculty had a crowded slate of duties, they fulfilled each job and gave students every opportunity to complete a successful and profitable year.

When a boy accidentally gets a karate chop on the back of the neck, he's mighty glad that the school has a nurse on duty. Mrs. Sue Stephenson doesn't take any chances with Fred Dice Bennett as she checks him over to see if there is more involved in his illness than the blow he received.

On Saturday, November 11, at noon, Mrs. Ida Turner was honored at a luncheon given on the occasion of her retirement from the teaching profession. Mrs. Turner has had thirty-six years of teaching experience with all but one of those years being in Franklin County.

Karen Meade, Ann Dillon, Mrs. Peggy Meade, Heddie Webster, Gary Flora, and David Kelly worked together to produce this classbook. We hope that you will enjoy it and that it will always be a reminder of the good years that you spent at Franklin County Junior High School.

ACTIVITIES

From the moment we trooped into the first class in September until the ringing of the last bell in June, our interests lie chiefly in the activities of our school. Many of these activities we shared in common such as classes, clubs, and cheering or playing for the various teams. Other activities stand out in individual minds as we recall the bright memories of our favorite moments. Material evidence of some of these moments, such as the school monogram, has gone to individual students for their outstanding accomplishments in academic work, club work, and sports.

Participation in school activities helps us to become a better individual and a better citizen for the community.

of America

These future homemakers entertained their parents and the faculty with a Christmas Tea. The girls studied the procedures for giving a tea, decided on the plans for this event, made all of the delicious refreshments, and then served as the hostesses. Everyone enjoyed the tea and it certainly proved to be a very successful project for the girls.

Not all students get to see the results of their learning so quickly as do these boys in their shop work. Mr. Williams and Mr. Jamison teach their students how they can make mailboxes and lamps for their homes.

Future Farmers club stresses development

These boys seem more interested in the photographer than they do Mr. Lumsden. Perhaps he didn't mind repeating his lecture on production agriculture.

The classroom is just as important to these students as the shop work as they learn about modern agriculture methods. Here Mr. Williams helps them with their project books.

year. This class was my best, not grade-wise, but the one I liked the most. Good luck to a real cool guy.

Jimmy Remond

Coach,

It's was a lot of fun
having you teach me P.E.
this year too. I can't be this way next year. Good luck to you in the future years.

Coach

Coach do like to have you for a coach next year in the tenth grade. You know how hard a coach I don't get in to much trouble. Please help out I don't run so much.
Watch to those girls just kidding. Be good

Dear Mr. Dillon,
I want to thank you for all you've taught me this year. Thank for all the counseling and especially for the physical part. I really appreciated the improvement in my body this year and I know that this class had as much to do with that as wrestling.
When I am older and becoming a driver and probably a rescue squad
member I'll remember you. I hope you don't hold it against me for getting in your way and giving you a hard time. Lots of Luck.

Sincerely,
Gary Amos
(P.S. I still can't get
Mrs. Fisher's window locked.)

Betty,

Watch out for Coach Dillon. Don't let him get into any more trouble than ~~you are~~ ^{he is} already in. Make sure he tells you about school time. He likes to have too much fun. He's going to drop my grade for this but I like to have some fun.

Best Wishes

John Baitnath

P.S. I enjoyed having him as teacher and Robert + Via says the best wishes to you always.
